WHOLESALE POISONING.—A very singular account is given in the Fond du Lac Press, of how a great number of people of the towns of Forest and Marshfield have been attacked with strange pains in the stomach and bowels, which was supposed to be a kind of epidemic, until it was discovered that the miller who does the custom work for the neighborhood, under the impression that the grooves in his mill stones were too deep, was in the practice of filling them up with a preparation of white lead, and when it wore or came out, of re-filling as occasion required. Some of the flour has been brought to Fond du Lac to be analyzed, and it has been found to contain a considerable quantity of lead. There is now no doubt among the people of that section that their sickness was caused by the use of this poisoned flour.

TEACHER'S ASSOCIATION.—The Kenosha County Teachers' Association, held its first regular meeting at Liberty, in the town of Salem, on Friday and Saturday last. We learn between fifty and sixty teachers were present, besides many friends of education from the surrounding country. The church in which the Association met was densely crowed most of the time during the session. The people of Liberty manifested a deep interest in the objects of the Association, which was evinced by their general attendance, and especially in a discussional meeting held on Saturday morning, in which many of the citizens participated, at which there was a very general determination expressed, to make the interests of education, the first among the interests of the people.

THE NEW ORLEANS PICAYUNE, noticing the arrival at that port of a large number of French from the Rhine Provinces, each of whom was equipped with a hand-organ, says that this musical speculation was occasioned in the following curious way: "Some wag of an American, last Summer, passing through various villages in Alsace and other French localities near the Rhine, had informed some of the good people, who, he found, were intending to emigrate in the fall, that in the highest social circles in the city and country, in the Northern, Southern and Western States, the favorite musical instrument was the hand-organ. His trick resulted in the simple Alsacians going into a hand-organ speculation.

THE RUSH TO BEECHER'S LECTURE IN PORTLAND.—The Portland Argus states that at HENRY WARD BEECHER'S lecture, in that city, on Thursday evening, several hundred holders of season tickets were unable to gain admission to the hall. The Committee very properly limited the sale of tickets to the capacity of the hall, but people came in the crowd without season tickets, and rushed in in the current, sometimes handing the money to the doorkeepers, who tried in vain to prevent their entrance, and sometimes throwing it at them. In they would go, and hence the unjust exclusion of those who hold season tickets. The Committee tried to prevent the difficulty, but in vain.

NARROW ESCAPE OF MR. BARNUM.—Mr. P. T. BARNUM was nearly suffocated, a night or two since, in consequence of having neglected to turn off the "register" in his sleeping room, the house being heated by a furnace. The room was small, and the windows and doors being closed, there was no ventilation. Mr. BARNUM found himself unable to walk on awakening in the morning, and although now moving about, he has not yet entirely recovered from the effects of his negligence.—This, in connection with the recent fatal cases at Haverill, Mass., should put our citizens on their guard.

FIRE AT DELAVAN.—A fire broke out in Delavan on Monday night, and consumed the large new brick block belonging to BARNS, TOPPING & Co. H. TOPPING & SONS had a big stock of goods burned. There was also a large stock of dry goods burned. A bookstore was also burned out. Two lawyers of fices, one of which was BARNS & ALLEN'S, was burned, with their library. Both printing offices, the Northron and Sovereign, were also burned out. There was an insurance on the building and contents for $6,000 in the Home, Ætna and Hartford.

A LETTER to the New Orleans Picayune, from Mr. KENDALL, dated at New Braunfels, says:—"I have already stated that I deem this the test season or year for wool-growers in Texas. For three consecutive years we have had extraordinary luck—I mean all those about here who were engaged in sheep raising during that period. It requires but the continuance of the same success for another year to prove incontestably that Texas is the best sheep country on the face of the earth—a long ways the best."

A MEDICAL EXAMINATION of the brain of PATRICK MAUDE, who was recently hung in New Jersey, resulted in satisfying the physician engaged, that the deceased was an insane man. Bishop BAILEY, of the Catholic Church, after a full examination of the case, decided him to be worthy of a Christian burial in consecrated ground—being satisfied, no doubt, that he was deranged.

THERE are a great many people out of employment in New York at the present time. An advertisement for a porter and an office boy attracted three or four hundred men to one store in Broadway on Monday morning, blocking up the sidewalk to such an extent that the police force had to disperse them.

IN THE CITY OF TROY, N. Y., one hundred and fifty persons are now licensed to sell rum. A contemporary thinks the rum barrel will prove another wooden horse to the people of Troy.

A HUGE MASS OF ICE, weighing about a hundred pounds, fell from the roof of a house in Boston on a passer-by, knocking him senseless and inflicting a number of serious wounds.

CHIEF JUSTICE TANEY has sufficiently recovered from his attack of pneumonic catarrh to believe that he will be able to resume his seat in the Supreme Court very shortly.

SOCIETY IN NEW ORLEANS.—The New Orleans Picayune speaks as follows of the condition of things in that city:

"We have of late, in this city, been almost daily called upon to record the death of some person by the hand of violence. It seems that difficulties, the most trivial, are settled only by the pistol or the knife. A slight quarrel in a gambling hell or a coffee saloon, between sporting men; a rude encounter by laborers on the levee or near the crowded rooms which they call homes, is followed by a death struggle soon afterwards in some public place, and so frequent have such tragedies become, that they scarcely awake even ordinary interest. Even the policemen, in the discharge of their duties, are now in constant danger of their lives. Within one week past two or three of the corps have either been killed or dangerously wounded."

Fine place that, to invite medical students from Philadelphia and the North. Are these murders among the clinical advantages of the Crescent city?

THE DODGE COUNTY MUSICAL ASSOCIATION will meet at Fox Lake the second week in February. We should judge from the reports we hear that the people of Dodge Co. are not tyros in musical matters and this being a praiseworthy institution it is to be hoped will be largely attended.

ACCIDENT.—Mr. J. HALL SMITH, Freight Agent at the Oshkosh station, while returning from a visit to his friends in that city, was thrown from a hand car recently and severely injured.

CAVED.—The Knickerbocker Lodge of Sons of Malta in Albany has fizzled, says the Utica Telegraph, its members having all joined a temperance organization.

HON. HENRY W. MILLER, of North Carolina, has added $4,000 to the Mount Vernon fund by his lectures.

MELANCHOLY OCCURRENCE—HEROIC CONDUCT OF A DYING MOTHER.—On the 13th inst., Mr. Justus Beebee left Pine River for Elk Rapids in a boat, with his family and household effects. His family consisted of his wife and two children—the eldest a daughter of eight years, and the youngest a daughter of two years. When out but a short distance from the shore they encountered a severe gale, which capsized the boat, and the little daughter, amidst cries for help, sank to rise no more. The mother and husband clung to the boat, succeeded in righting it, and were again capsized. The mother, with the child in her arms, clung to the boat until her hands became stiff with cold, and she was obliged to relinquish her grasp. She then took her child in her mouth, seizing it by the calf of its leg, and succeeded, with the aid of her husband, in reaching the shore, but to gasp once or twice. The child was dead. The mother and child were buried in one grave. The body of the little daughter was not recovered. Mr. B. arrived at Elk Rapids by rail.—Grand Traverse (Michigan) Herald.

THE MANAGER of the London, Chatham and Dover Railway has recently introduced a new system for the transmission of large bodies of troops by railway in the most expeditious manner, and a practical illustration of the method was recently given at one of the stations. A detachment of ninety-six men was marched into the station and drawn up in front of three carriages, and were then ordered to disengage their knapsacks and take their places in the carriages. After two or three attempts they were able to do so with the greatest ease and regularity, the whole number taking their seats in less than one minute. By Mr. Finnigan's system, the proceeding is arranged with the greatest regularity, and it is a question, not of numbers, but of carriage accommodation; the movement being simultaneous, it matters not whether a train is composed of 30 carriages and 960 men, or of only 3 carriages and 96 men, as it can be filled and started in less than three minutes from the time of the arrival of the troops at the station.

THE UNITED STATES are represented to be the largest consumers of champagne in the world, and the consumption per annum is estimated to be one million baskets. The whole champagne district is about twenty thousand acres, and the amount of wine manufactured for exportation is about ten millions of bottles, or about eighteen hundred thousand bottles. Of this, Russia consumes 160,000, Great Britain and her possessions 165,000, France 162,000, Germany 146,000, and the United States 220,000. The custom house in New York, through which passes a large amount of the champagne imported into this country, reports only 175,028 baskets per annum. Seven hundred and eighty thousand baskets, therefore, of the wine drunk in this country for imported champagne, is counterfeit—an amount equal to the supply of the champagne district for the world.

A WOMAN SUSPECTED OF INFIDELITY KILLS HER SON.—The Paris, Ill., Beacon relates the circumstances of a homicide which occurred last week in the outskirts of that town. A Mrs. Joy, who was suspected by her husband of improper intimacies, was found by him in a stable attached to his house, in company with a certain doctor—name not given. Mr. Joy was about drawing his knife to attack the disturber of his domestic peace, when he rushed from the stable and made good his escape. Mrs. Joy at the same time fled to the house, followed by her husband, and took up a shot-gun, as she alleges for the purpose of scaring her husband, who had been accustomed to abuse her. The gun went off in her hands, and the whole charge of shot entered the face of her little boy, aged about ten years, killing him almost instantly.

THE LONDON GLOBE Jan. 2d says:—"Lord Macaulay will be buried this week in Westminster Abbey. The sexton of the Dean and Chapter is busy opening a grave for our great historian—not with kings and knights of the Garter—not even with Stephenson or Telford—but in Poets' Corner, or the South transcept of the Abbey. He will lie at the foot of Addison's statue, and close to the grave of Isaac Barrow, one of the great Trinity of Cambridge men, Macaulay's own College. The historian will not lie far off Camden—almost the father of English history—nor far from what remains of May, the historian of the Long Parliament, and near the remains of Johnston, Garrick, Sheridan and Gifford, the tory editor of the Quarterly Review. He will lie facing the statue of the poet of 'The Pleasures of Hope,' at whose funeral the noble historian helped (with wise selection) to bear the pall."

A SORROWFUL SIGHT!—At the request of Dr. Teegarden, we called the other day to look at a patient of his, (Mrs. McKay, wife of the member of Assembly from Monroe Co.,) who has just come from Sparta, to place herself under the care of Dr. Teegarden of this city. She is afflicted with what is designated as one of the kinds of cancer.—This is manifested by an enlargement of the muscles upon the under jaw, and they are now swollen even with the side of the face laterally, and hang perpendicularly some four inches below the under side of the chin. This frightful-looking protuberance is now as large as an ordinary sized cocoanut, is very painful, of a purple color, and appears very much inflamed. The Doctor thinks that in a few days it will yield to his treatment. We certainly wish him and the patient the best success.—Racine Journal.

"DOUGLAS AGAINST THE NORTH"—A FAVOR NOT APPRECIATED.—Mr. Logan, M. C., sent us a printed pamphlet of an old electioneering speech of Abe Lincoln, at Cincinnati, last fall, against S. A. Douglas. The speech is headed in big letters, "Douglas against the North," &c. We are at a loss to know why such outside stuff should be franked by M. C.'s into the South. Do they take this method to show, that as Douglas is against the North, he ought therefore be to supported by the South? It won't do. We do not want Abe Lincoln or any other Abolitionist to tell us who is for or against us. That is a matter we determine for ourselves. We, however, thank Mr. Logan for his attention to us. We would nevertheless prefer something better than old abolition speeches.—Bellefonte (Ala.) Era, 19th.

THE NEWARK ADVERTISER says:—"An interesting decision was made by Justice Saanford this morning in a civil suit. The defendant set up that he had advertised his wife and given public notice that he would pay no debts of her contracting. The justice decided that while this might serve as a warning, it was no legal way of getting clear of the wife's liabilities; that the husband, in the eye of the law, was liable for the wife's debts, so long as she continued such. Judgment was accordingly given for the plaintiff in the full amount claimed."

THE CITY.

Presentation to the Rev. Dr. Pyper.

The residence of the Rev. Dr. PYPER, on Spring street, pastor of the First Baptist Church of this city, was the scene, last Monday evening, of a happy and genial party.

The event was a gathering of the members of the pastor's congregation in a sort of a good bye visit on the eve of his departure to another field of labor, the health of the Dr.'s family requiring a change of residence. The mansion was filled with friendly faces, rafters, halls and stair-cases even clustered with warm well-wishers. The good man of the house, seconded by his genial lady, extended his hospitalities with all that cordiality which has won for him here such hosts of friends. After an hour devoted to the social and the exchange of friendly sentiments, Deacon WM. BYRON proceeded to tender to Dr. PYPER as a parting gift of his parishioners, a purse containing the hand some sum of two hundred dollars in gold.—In making the presentation, Deacon BYRON addressed the Rev. Dr. at considerable length in a most happy and peculiarly touching vein of remark.

Language, he said, was incompetent truly to interpret the feelings which he and those for whom he spoke, now offered this token of their esteem to their loved pastor. He could only allude to some of the incidents in the history of the society which had tended to form and strengthen the ties of affection which had bound them so to their pastor, who by a sad necessity was now about to leave them.

Three years ago, when the affairs of the Church were in the most utter state of discouragement that had ever been known among them, a feeble few resorted to prayer, and their thoughts were directed to him from whom they were now to part. His coming in May, 1857, had been the signal for a renewed prosperity in the Church. At that time the Church numbered but sixty members, and not more than twenty of those were of available strength. For eight long years previous, only two or three had been united by baptism to the Church, but by the faithful ministry of this beloved pastor, ninety-four had since that time been admitted to the Church, about one half of whom were by baptism.

It had been the cherished hope of the Church and Society that the present relation of pastor and people would never be sundered but by death. A mysterious dispensation of Providence seemed, however, to order otherwise. Pastor and people would still cherish the consolation, though sundered now on earth a glorious reunion was reserved for them at the last day. "We know not what we shall be, but we do know when He who is our life shall appear, then shall we also appear with HIM in glory."

As the Deacon concluded, hardly an eye in the room but was moistened with tears.—After a brief pause, Dr. PYPER responded in an appropriate and feeling manner.

He expressed his agreeable surprise at the welcome gift, but was more particularly touched by the assurance that it gave unselfish regard toward him by his parishioners. This present, made as he was leaving them, and made at a time of such pecuniary distress, gave testimony of a disinterested affection of which he was proud to be the recipient. The Dr. then also attended to the history of his labors here in a feeling manner, and gave assurance that he should carry the memory of his sojourn here with him to the grave.

We have full notes of the Dr.'s remarks, but want of space forbids anything but an allusion. The Dr. delivers his last sermon to his congregation on next Sunday. He goes from here to a field in Michigan. He will be long missed from here by many devoted friends.

The following resolution was unanimously adopted.

Whereas, In the dealings of an all-wise and mysterious Providence, the relations existing for the past three years between this church and congregation and their esteemed pastor, Rev. Dr. JAMAS PYPER, are soon to be dissolved, the health of his much beloved companion being unable to resist the unfavorable influences of this climate;

Resolved, That while it is with much pain we contemplate the loss of his earnest and faithful labors for our spiritual advancement, his able and valued counsels, and his affectionate companionship, we submit with christian resignation to the will of Him "who doeth all things well," and we feel an earnest hope and assurance that he will meet from those toward whom he may hereafter sustain similar relations, with the same high appreciation of his christian qualities and abilities, and the same affectionate regard which we shall ever cherish towards him.

BEAUTIFUL FIGURES OF COMMERCIAL RHETORIC.—To the commercial editor of the News we are indebted for an innovation on that foolish system of adopting a set of phrases to convey an idea the year round. He repudiates platitudes, and being original, coins tropes and figures with as much ease as he foots up a column. It is no longer necessary to announce, in hackneyed terms, that the hog market is lively. We are informed of the fact after the style of CARLISLE—"The hog trade broke out yesterday with some degree of activity, at 13 minutes to 9!"

That suits us. Our sisters may now be induced to include the commercial column in their morning newspaper de-vours. The sprinkling of an occasional bit of poetry—say a verse from POE'S Raven—would still further enhance the novelty. Can any be so stupid as not to relish the following commercial tit bits, in preference to the dry and monotonous repetitions which grace all our other papers:

Exchange hangs just as high as ever; no pole but the longest being able to reach the persimmons.

Holders of flour were more limber this morning; and as buyers sachaze, they gracefully waltzed off their remaining stock to the tune of

Rang dang, riddle dang,
Rang dang, doo!

Corn meal still has a downward tendency; but the most expert physicians can reach it.

Oats moved up a cent, in a solemn and funereal style.

Barley exploded at an early hour in the day, small fragments were seen afterward by heavy dealers.

Potatoes still enjoy the somnambulic delight of hash-heesh-ian quiet.

Poultry—pugilistic.

Grass Seed—equinoctial.

MUSICAL SOCIETY CONCERT.—This evening the Musical Society give their 101st concert at Albany Hall. We notice among an excellent selection of pieces to be performed and sung—"The Last Rose of Summer"—for the soprano, and the redoubtable "Anvil Chorus" from Il Trovatore. Tickets may be had at NIEDECKEN'S book store.

NUMBER FOUR of the Saturday Gazette has appeared, containing CHAS. M. CLINTON'S story of the Protege. The Gazette is an enterprising and deserving sheet.

WATER WORKS.—The report of the Select Committee of the Common Council in relation to water works, it is understood will be acted upon at the special meeting to-night.

ONE of the pleasantest imaginable masquerades came off last evening at the Walker House.

WE DROPPED IN AT CALEB WALL'S a day or two ago, and that worthy was busy opening a pack of letters from the Postoffice.—Having torn off the covers of a dozen he turned to us and made the remark that three-fourths of all the letters addressed him from the country with no other object than to solicit information, came unaccompanied with stamps, and thus persons who might be gratified in their laudable search for information, were not answered for their want of courtesy. It struck us at the time as worthy of remark, that a great many people seem to have no conception of an obligation in such matters, but their conduct would rather indicate that they supposed business men, and even editors, took an especial delight in not only answering letters, but paying postage on them. It is a rule of good breeding, whenever addressing a party on matters of your own, to enclose a stamp if an answer is desired.

LECTURE LAST EVENING.—BAYARD TAYLOR'S lecture was another great success. The Hall was filled to its utmost capacity. The lecturer spoke in his usually entertaining strain for an hour and twenty minutes, and was listened to with the greatest attention to the end.

LATEST NEWS!

BY LAST NIGHT'S REPORT

Congressional Proceedings.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 26—9 P. M.

HOUSE—On motion of Mr. Etheridge, there was a call of the House, with a view of affording the absentees time to arrive, preliminary to voting for Speaker.

The proceedings connected with this subject occupied nearly an hour.

Mr. Winslow, in order further to procure the attendance of the absentees, moved to adjourn.

This was decided in the negative. Yeas 32, nays 190.

Mr. Winslow moved that the House proceed to ballot for Speaker viva voce.

Mr. Hickman said he came into the Hall this morning to resist a vote to-day, but having learned that there was a general understanding yesterday that the House should vote without interruption for two weeks, unless a Speaker was sooner elected, he was not disposed to break through the arrangement, though he would not concede that he was bound by it. He would withhold his vote until he found there was some reason to change the determination. He would not engage in this ridiculous farce. When his vote could be of any service, it could be had.

Mr. Craige, of N. C., said the gentleman mistook. He, Craige, had entered into no such arrangement.

The House then proceeded to vote. When the name of Mr. Hamilton was reached, he said that he referred to the fact that some of his friends had, without consultation with him, put his name in nomination for Speaker. It was done, doubtless, in the hope that the conservative elements would rally around him to defeat the common political enemy.—He came here with no expectation or desire to preside over this deliberative body, nor did he consider himself competent for such responsible a duty. Being satisfied that the use of his name could do no good, he begged leave to withdraw it, thanking his friends for their favorable regard.

He wished to say one thing. He did not deal in harsh language. Much had been said about secession. He would not now give his views on the merits of this question, but would content himself with this remark, viz: whatever sentiments may exist on the other side as to the maintaining of the Union, he believed disunion was this day upon us. It might be in the power of the conservative element to avoid it, but it could not be done by the election of a Black Republican.

The people of Texas were as devoted to the Union as any other citizens.—They had manifested their devotion to it by as much liberality and by yielding up their separate nationality; and yet this same people and State are now resolved it were better that the wheels of government should be arrested to-day, and that there be no organization, rather than Mr. Sherman be placed in the Speaker's chair. The Legislature of Texas had appropriated $20,000 to pay the expenses, if necessary, of the Representatives of that State, in view of a still further struggle on this subject.

The roll call having been completed, the result was found to be, whole number of votes 226; necessary to a choice, 114; Sherman, 107; Bocock, 58; Smith, of North Carolina, 37; Davis, of Indiana, 5; McClernand, 3. The remainder were divided among 8 others. Mr. Winslow moved that the House again vote, and demanded the previous question.

Some debate ensued as to the proposal of Mr. Etheridge of yesterday.

Several members claimed that they were not bound by any agreement supposed to have been made about balloting.

The Republicans called for a vote and some confusion ensued.

The House finally came to a vote with the following result:

Whole number of votes cast 226; necessary to a choice 114; Sherman 109, Bocock 51, Smith, of N. C. 33, Gilmer 10, Davis of Ind. 7, Florence 4. The remaining votes were scattered among 13 other candidates.

SENATE.—Mr. Rice introduced a bill to relieve mail contractors.

Mr. Benjamin introduced a bill authorizing the Missionary Societies of the Episcopal Church to enter a tract of land in Wisconsin. Referred.

Mr. Bright introduced a resolution to increase the Committee on Claims to seven.—Adopted.

The Vice President was authorized to appoint the two additional members.

Mr. Houston wished Mr. Douglas' resolution called up and made the special order for Tuesday, at half past one o'clock, as he wished to speak on it.

Mr. Davis objected on the ground that a committee had been appointed to investigate the Harper's raid, and suggests any legislation which may be necessary.

Mr. Wilson concluded his speech by reviewing the aggressions of the South.

Mr. Davis followed in defence of the South; and during the debate said the election of some Republican, would not cause a dissolution of the Union, instancing Senator Foote of Vermont. Mr. Foote said that in case of a dissolution, the West will not remain with the North.

Mr. Wigfall defended Texas from the charge of receiving ten thousand dollars for territory to which she had no title.

Adjourned till Monday.

A MAN SPLIT IN TWO BY A SAW.—A terrible accident happened at a saw mill in Davis county, Iowa, a few days ago. An employee named Redden Laseer was standing on the log carriage of the mill, rather forward of the saw, when, on a light jar, he lost his balance and fell on it, first cutting off his left hand, by which it seems he wanted to protect the rest of his body from falling on the saw; yet he fell on it, the saw cutting from the top of the hip downward diagonally thro' the leg, and coming out nearly where it joins the body. Medical assistance was immediately procured, but nothing could save the unfortunate man's life.

AMONG THE INCIDENTS attending the Lawrence calamity we find notice of the following: A young woman who was employed in the mill, while at dinner on the day of the accident, had a presentiment that something awful was about to happen. She endeavored to dissipate the feeling, but was unable to do so. She went into the mill as usual, but the matter pressed so heavily upon her mind that about 3 o'clock P. M. she had to go home indisposed. She thus escaped the terrible consequences which ensued.

A NUMBER of letters were received at the Post Office Department at Washington, last week, from mail contractors in different parts of the Union, declaring their intention to break off the lines if no appropriation is made by the first of March. The House of Representatives, in so long delaying its organization, assumes a fearful responsibility.

A SILVER SERVICE SET, valued at one thousand dollars, has been presented to Capt. M. C. Meigs by the foreman and others employed under the late superintendence of Capt. Meigs, upon the United States Capitol and Post Office extensions, and the new dome.

The Excelsior Gas Burner!

WHICH WE HAVE NOW FOR SALE, has been proved to combine all the qualities necessary for producing the greatest amount of light at the smallest expense.
In this burner, no larger than the ordinary one, we have arranged to heat the gas, to insure more perfect combustion, in such a manner as to still the flame within the shortest time, and prevent flickering, so hurtful to the eyes.
The simplicity and perfection of arrangement in our burner, insure the most constant performance, and if, in any situation, it should become necessary to cleanse them, it can be very readily, thoroughly and quickly done, without the least injury, as shown at A and B.
A, is an internal view of our burner, in which may be seen the check which prevents too great a flow of gas, above which is seen the wire gauze, the arrows showing the course of the gas. B is the forceps used to draw out the check, and are shown inserted in it as they would appear when it was withdrawn from the burner.
Now we claim for our burner, that it is more easily cleaned than most, or any other, for the deposit in it being dry, is easily scratched and brushed out, and when the check is replaced by a slight pressure of the forceps, it will be found as good as ever.
No. 1 is a plain burner, varying in size or quantity of light from 3 to 5 feet and upwards, as desired, to be used open or with glass shades as per cut No. 4, or in other positions except that of cut No. 2.
No. 2 is arranged to still the flame, by which means an exceedingly agreeable light is produced, for the use of drop lights or where a close flame is desired, and confined to nearly one size, 3 or 3½ feet; if a larger light is desired we have an arrangement designated No. 3 which will accommodate a light from 3 to 6 feet or upwards.
No. 4 is a nice Glass Shade designed for Chandeliers, &c. Also, Drop Light Sockets, Paper Shade Supporters, Burner Pliers, &c., &c., for the accommodation of our burners.

Decrease of Emigration.

During the past year, emigration from Europe has considerably diminished. Not only has the influx been much less into the United States, than during several preceding years, but the same is true of other countries which used to receive emigrants from the old countries. Several reasons may be adduced for this diminution in the exode which has been perpetually depleting some of the European countries for several years past. Among other reasons, in respect to the United States, is the diversion of the tide of emigration towards Canada, through the facilities offered to poor persons, to obtain cheap passages on board the steamers constantly running between Liverpool and Halifax. Australia, too, tends to draw away a great many emigrants who would otherwise choose this country for their future homes. Then the increasing prosperity of Ireland—whence the great bulk of emigrants used to pour forth to these shores, and to other parts of the world—acts as a preventation of emigration from that country. The increased demand for labor there, together with fair wages, and good treatment, operates as a check to the roving disposition superinduced by poverty and misery.

With regard to German emigration, an English paper says, it has almost ceased entirely, with the commotions of the Continent, during 1859. Liverpool is the principal English port from which emigrants start for the various countries where they desire to choose their future homes. The total number that started from there in 1859 was 79,386; in 1858, it was 81,326, showing a decrease of 1,940. In 1857, the number was nearly double, being 155,652; in 1856, it was 127,-556; and in 1855, 119,108.

This is a very great disparity. The several destinations of the immigrants who left Liverpool in 1859 in regular packet ships, are thus distributed:—To America, 1,561 cabin, and 47,137 steerage passengers; to New South Wales, 4 cabin and 3,476 steerage; Victoria, 568 cabin, and 9,833 steerage; New Zealand, 164 cabin and 1,317 steerage; to Cape of Good Hope, 7 cabin and 913 steerage; to Canada, 544 steerage passengers; the ships numbering 248.

In private ships, the numbers were: To Australia 8,961; New Zealand, 1,317; Cape of Good Hope, 77; Canada, 511. To these figures must be added 12,644 passengers in "short" ships. The nationality of emigrants, from Liverpool, is thus divided:—English, 18,214; Scotch, 3,518; Irish 40,-057; other countries, 4,715. Thus, it will be seen that very little emigration has taken place from Scotland.

As a set off to these figures, a Liverpool paper is congratulating itself on the fact that the immigrants who are revisiting their native country nearly balance those who are leaving it. Many of them have gained their object in going abroad, in the attainment of wealth, while others are returning, disappointed, to try their native country again.—Great numbers are said to be returning from the United States to Ireland, probably drawn home by the good news they receive as to the prosperous state of their country. This is regarded as an indication that trade is in a healthy state.

The Non-Intercourse Bubble.—The New York Times, in consequence of the constant complaints in Democratic papers that business is falling off on account of the political excitement, has made thorough inquiries in the dry goods and carrying trades. The result is that business is universally reported as good as usual and in many cases even better than last year. Some of the lines to the South are unable to carry all the freight now offering, and Stewart, who was said to have discharged fifty clerks on account of dull business, says that this was only his annual "weeding out" of incapables, and that business is a trifle better than usual. It would be monotonous and tedious to give the results of this inquiry more at length, for they are in all cases substantially the same, to the extent of three columns and a half in the Times.

A Timely Warning.—A portion of the Southern people certainly carry their intolerance and repudiation of past principles to an extent which would seem incredible, if the proofs of it were not furnished by themselves. The Atlanta (Ga.) Confederacy says, "we regard every man in our midst an enemy to the institutions of the South who does not boldly declare that he or she believes African slavery to be a social, moral and political blessing. Any person holding other than these sentiments, whether born at the South or North, is unsound, and should be requested to leave the country." We hope that "every man" will after this prepare himself, if "he or she" proposes to visit Atlanta, to make a full confession of faith in the blessings of slavery. Once more, could Washington, Madison, or Henry Clay, if now living, visit Georgia in safety, supposing the Confederacy to represent Southern views fairly?

Sad Accident.—A singular and truly afflictive casualty occurred in Olmstead, Ohio, a few days ago. A bright little lad of three or four years of age, son of Mr. Briggs, wishing to see the men dress hogs, his mother put on his cloak, and the father placed him up in the branches of an apple tree, where he could look on and be out of the way.—The lad was perched near by his father, and directly over where persons frequently passed in bringing hot water, etc. Nothing unusual was observed, but when, after some time, the father lifted down his little son, to his horror he found him dead! The cloak had caught on a limb and strangled the child. The almost distracted parents could not believe their darling dead, and strove for a long time to restore animation, but in vain.

What it Costs to keep a Cow at West Bend.—The Washington county Democrat, published at West Bend, says:

It costs something to winter a cow here; about thus:

Two tons of hay, if bought in haying time	$20,00
One ton of bran	15,00
Two loads of straw	8,00
Labor of milking and taking care of cow	5,00
Total	$48,00

The Opinion of Judge Dixon.

For the Sentinel.

Mr. Editor:—Will you permit me to publish a brief criticism of Judge Dixon's opinion in all cases known as the Booth cases? I hope you will. Our judiciary being elective, the people are made judges of their Judges. They have not only a right, therefore, to examine the judgments of their Judiciary, but it is their duty.

The Judge says the question is, "Does the Constitution of the United States confer on Congress power to make a law providing for an appeal from the Courts of the States to the Supreme Court of the United States, and to authorize that Court, in the exercise of its appellate jurisdiction, to review and reverse the judgments of the State Courts in the cases specified in the 25th section of the Judiciary act?" Is not the whole question stated thus: "Does the Constitution of the United States give appellate jurisdiction to the United States Courts from the State Courts?" I think it is.

The Judge says he holds the affirmative of the question. He admits, in his opinion, that appellate jurisdiction is not given in express words, but is found in Sec. 2, Art. 3 of the United States Constitution in these words: "The Judicial power shall extend to all cases in law and equity, arising under the Constitution, the laws of the United States, and treaties made under their authority." The words "all cases," as above connected, give such appellate jurisdiction as he thinks. He argues thus:

The object of the clause, containing the above words, was to make the Judiciary power co-extensive with the Constitution, adequate power to enforce all the rights given by it; a power, to use his words, "indispensable to the existence of every government." I suppose, then, the power would have been there without a constitutional provision. It is found, then, in every government. And he infers from this necessary power to be found in all governments such appellate jurisdiction.

Do not the Courts of Great Britain take cognizance also of all cases arising under treaties between her and the United States? Can an appeal be had from her Courts to the United States Courts? She is as much mentioned in the article of the Constitution referred to as the States are. The reason why an appeal should exist applies equally well to her as to the States. In fact, do not her Courts often take cognizance of the Constitution and laws of the U. S. and interpret and apply them?

He argues further that the framers of the Constitution contemplated that cases within the cognizance of the United States Courts would arise in the State Courts and that the latter would decide cases arising under the Constitution, laws and treaties of the U. S. Hence he infers as necessary such appellate power. But the framers of the Constitution also contemplated that cases within the cognizance of the State Courts, would arise in the U. S. Courts. I mean cases where no law of the United States came in question. Hence, according to the Judge's argument, an appeal is necessary from the United States' Courts to our State Courts, for without it how will our Judicial power be co-extensive with our Constitution and laws, according to his idea? Judge Miller, United States Judge at Milwaukee, decides cases every day, arising under the Constitution, laws and treaties of Wisconsin, calling our dealings with the U. S. treaties. By parity of reasoning the Judge must conclude that our Constitution authorizes an appeal from Judge Miller's decisions to our Supreme Court in such cases. "These cases are of vital importance to the sovereignty of Wisconsin," and hence such appellate jurisdiction must exist as to them. We cannot withdraw cognizance of such cases from the United States by legislation, and certainly we ought to have some way of determining the meaning of our own laws. Why then has not Wisconsin appellate jurisdiction in the class of cases above mentioned from the Supreme Court of the United States. Without this appeal the United States Court, as a Court of an independent sovereignty, would adjudicate as to to a large class of cases where the Constitution and laws of Wisconsin are involved, which would never, aye, could never be reached by our State Courts. Without this appeal, how could it be said that the judiciary power of Wisconsin was co-extensive with the Constitution and laws of Wisconsin. "A power," says the Judge, "indispensable to every government;" or is Wisconsin no government?

The denial that our State has appellate jurisdiction from the United States Constitution as to "all cases arising under the Court and laws of Wisconsin," makes the proposition that the "judicial power must be co-extensive with the Constitution, and indispensable to the existence of every government," a dead letter—mere surplusage. So the Judge reasons. Can it be reasonably contended that the plaintiff shall have a right to choose the Wisconsin Courts for his tribunal and the defendant not, in the supposed class of cases? But how can the defendant exercise it unless an appeal be given? Not only must an appeal be given from the United States Court to the Wisconsin Courts in the supposed class of cases, but from the Courts of every State in the Union, for every State decides upon our Constitution and laws. Without appeal from them, our judical power is not co-extensive with our laws; and moreover, there will be no standard of interpretation, each law may be decided thirty-five different ways. Aye, ought we not to have an appeal from every Court in the world that shall attempt to decide upon the laws of Wisconsin? Is not the tendency of Judges reasoning to such conclusions?

The Judge supposes an unconstitutional law passed in Kentucky, and that the State Court would sustain it. Well let us suppose that the Legislature of Kentucky passes a constitutional law, and the U. S. Court will not sustain it; or that it passes an unconstitutional law and the U. S. Court does sustain it. If these supposed cases give an appeal one way, they do the other; if to the U. S., also to the Kentucky Courts.

As to the argument that without appeal the State Courts would not only have concurrent jurisdiction but in many cases exclusive, it proves equally well that there should be an appeal from the United States to the State Courts; for without it Judge Miller's Court would not only have concurrent but exclusive jurisdiction, of many cases under our laws.

The quotation from Chancellor Kent does not deduce the power of appeal from the constitution, but the policy of the power. And to prove that appeals in the cases mentioned were politic, he says they are "those which touch the peace and sovereignty of the nation, or which preserves State prejudices, jealousies, interests," &c. Has the United States government no jealousies, &c., as well as the State governments? Chancellor Kent was as good and great as any have claimed him to be. In politics, however, he was a Federalist, and wished to concentrate as much power in the Constitution of the U. S. as he could. The Republicans disagreed with him.

But there is an argument against such appellate jurisdiction of the United States that seems to me conclusive. Perhaps I cannot impart it to others, but I will try.

Sec. 1, Art. III of the U. S. Constitution says: "The judicial power of the United States shall be vested in one Supreme Court and such inferior Courts as Congress may establish." Nowhere is it said that such judicial power shall be vested in State Courts. To give appellate jurisdiction from our State Courts makes them a part of the judicial power of the United States, a part of the systems. Again, such appellate jurisdiction makes our State Courts inferior tribunals.—They are not established by Congress—but the U. S. Constitution says that Congress shall establish the inferior tribunals.

What does judicial power mean in this Section and Article of the Constitution?—Does it not mean a power to determine, and issue process to execute the law? Then suppose a case in our State Courts where a law of Congress is called in question; that it is decided adversely to such law, that an appeal is taken and the decision reversed by the Supreme Court of the U. S., and a mandate returned to our Supreme Court commanding the law as pronounced by the latter Court to be executed, and our Court obeys the mandate, who then executes the judicial power of the United States? Why, the Court of Wisconsin. But the Constitution of the United States has placed such judicial power in the U. S. Courts alone.

Further, suppose our Judges refuse obedience to the mandate. Will the U. S. Marshal imprison the Judges of our Supreme Court for contempt? He can if this appellate power exists.

LAW.

January 23, 1860.

Letter from Father Norris.—The following is a copy of the letter addressed by Father Norris to the Speaker of the Assembly, declining the invitation to officiate, in common with the other clergymen of Madison, as Chaplain to the Legislature:

Madison, Jan. 18, 1860.

Hon. Dear Sir:—I have received your courteous note inviting me, in the name of the Assembly of Wisconsin, to officiate, alternately with my Reverend brethren of Madison, as Chaplain during the session.

I cannot say I regret to be obliged to decline the honor thus extended to me.

It has ever been my conviction that according to the Constitution of our Federal and State governments, the introduction (or rather intrusion) of religious exercises of any kind into our legislative halls, or other public institutions (schools!!) is diametrically opposed to the tenor and letter of such constitutions, and subversive of the policy universally taught through them, that there shall be no coalition of Church and State.

It was on this ground alone that I had at first determined to decline officiating in a clerical capacity before the Legislative Assembly of Wisconsin.

But upon reading the debates of the Assembly in regard to the chaplaincy resolution, I feel compelled, through self-respect to myself as a gentleman, and as a citizen of Madison, (to say nothing of my veneration for my sacred character as a Minister of Jesus Christ,) to decline any such honor.

To yourself, Hon. Sir, I am under many obligations for your courteous letter.

Trusting that these, my objections to act as chaplain of the Assembly of Wisconsin, may be made known through you to your honorable body,

I am with the highest consideration,
Yours, &c., &c.,
JOHN W. NORRIS, D. D.
Pastor of St. Raphael's Catholic Congregation, Madison, Wis.

Interview of the Sons of Temperance with the President.—The Constitution has the following account of the interview of the Grand Division of the Sons of Temperance of Maryland, with President Buchanan, on Thursday last:

Upwards of one hundred and fifty gentlemen, with a freshness and healthfulness of aspect and general appearance of vigor and elasticity which temperate habits only can produce, were introduced to him in the "east room." Benj. E. Gantt, the Grand Worthy Patriarch of the Order, addressed the President in a cordial and glowing speech. He referred to the President himself, significantly, as an example of temperance. His apparent health, his vigor, his activity, his capacity, and habits of labor, all indicated temperance in all things. The remarks of the Patriarch were to the point, and well delivered.

President Buchanan replied with his accustomed readiness and felicity. He had always been a temperate man. Before societies had been thought of he had ever exerted moderation in eating as well as in drinking—and to this control over both appetites he attributed (under Providence) the health which he enjoyed. Although not a total abstinence man, he believed that these temperance societies were calculated to do the highest good; and if every man in the nation were to practice their principles, the whole country would be greatly the better for it.

The gentlemen constituting the order were then, individually, introduced to the President, who received every one with that warmth and friendship which distinguish him in all his receptions. This interview was particularly interesting, because it was significant of the feeling which the people entertain towards the President. They came to him not as politicians, but as friends and advocates of a great moral cause.

The New York Herald and the Impending Crisis.—The New York correspondent of the Mobile Register makes the following remarkable statements with regard to the New York Herald:

> Young Bennett is now the principal assistant editor to his father. He conducts the editorial department when his father is not in town, and writes well. For a long time young Bennett gave no token of editorial talent, but all that has changed. He has been for a year at the editorial rooms every day (when in town,) and either wrote or dictated the principal editorials. He has more talent than his father, though not the experience. There is no person in the United States that has received such an education as young Bennett. He has spent years in France, Germany, Italy and Spain. He was at school in all those countries; consequently he speaks, writes, and reads all of those languages with the correctness of a native.—When he is 21 (in a few days hence) his father intends to change the heading of the Herald so as to have it read "James G. Bennett & Son, Editors and Proprietors." When the old gentleman dies, then the heading will be changed back to the single J. G. B., as the son has the same name as his father.
> The Herald has some very extraordinary men engaged upon it. The principal editorial writer is the celebrated Dr. Jones, who is the real author of the "Impending Crisis of the South," by Helper. That book was compiled by Dr. Jones in the Herald office, from facts and statements that have been attested by Mr. Bennett. Helper may have assisted the Doctor. As a proof of this, let me call your attention to the fact that nothing of any consequence was said about the book until a few days before the meeting of Congress; then the Herald opened upon it, republishing extracts, and abusing it editorially, day after day, until members of Congress engaged in the discussion, and the fortune of Dr. Jones, Helper, and Burdick, the publisher, is secured."

The recent finding of a large quantity of ambergris in the body of a dead whale discovered floating on the ocean, has attracted considerable attention to the nature and peculiarities of the article. It is a solid, opaque, fatty substance, found on the sea-coast, or sometimes floating on the sea, chiefly in the tropical regions. It is of various colors, but chiefly of a deep ash-colored yellow. It is most frequently found in small fragments, and usually in the intestines of the spermaceti whale, and is supposed to be the cause or the result of disease in that animal. After a short exposure to the air and washing, its odor is fragrant, and is increased by heating. If thrown on hot coals, it burns, and is entirely dissipated. It is not soluble either in water or the acids. Ether, ammonia, and oil dissolve it; but alcohol acts only on a portion, and is therefore useful in analyzing it. Caustic alkalies combine with it and form a soap; and it is also used in perfumery, &c.

Shocking Self-Mutilation.—The other day we republished, from a Western paper, the case of an old woman who had disemboweled herself, and cut off a portion of her intestines. A similar case occurred yesterday morning in Brooklyn. A woman named Mary Dougherty, widow of the late Daniel Dougherty, a butcher by occupation, residing at No. 129 Court street, rear of Pacific street, ripped open her bowels with a razor, so that the entrails fell upon the floor. She had been drinking hard for some time, and was laboring under a fit of delirium tremens at the time. Surgeon Ball, Dr. Cochrane, and several other physicians were called in, and, on examination, it was found that she had cut of five feet of what is termed the transverse colon, and a portion of the ilium. She did not appear to feel the effects of her injuries during the day, but towards night she began to realize her condition. Whether she will survive and recover as the Western woman did, remains to be seen.—New York Tribune.

A Girl Recovers her Lost Fingers.—A thrilling incident is revived from the discovery, amid the ruins at Lawrence, of the ends of several fingers of a human being, the ends lacerated, and indicative of the direful extremity to which the possessor was driven. It will be remembered that on the night of the calamity, a girl named Kelly, finding herself caught by one hand in the machinery of a loom, in her fearful extremity, tore her hand from the well nigh fatal embrace of the machinery, and left several joints of her fingers in the ruins. So scrutinizing has been the search of the workmen, that even these lost digits were discovered to-day, and after being exposed for a while in the dead room, they were transmitted to the young lady, who, having had the stumps amputated, is now fast recovering from her self-imposed wounds.

THE OLD SEXTON.

On a marble slab in the church yard old,
Sitteth the sexton gray,
At mid of night as the olden year
Is sighing its life away.

Pale and cold from the half-hid moon
Falleth a gentle beam,
Playing along his frosted locks
With a glittering silver gleam.

Little he recks the clinging damp,
As he bows in silent prayer;
Nor the wind that springs with a lonely chill
From the dead entombed there.

He sleepeth now—on a sculptured urn
He resteth his weary head,
While noiseless round him gather
All his angel dead.

Little ones buried in olden time,
Risen from out the mould,
Breathing across his silver locks
Ringlets of silken gold.

One of a fair and angel form
Bendeth over him now;
He smileth, for in his dreaming,
He claspeth her fondly now.

Madge, with her tresses of sunny tint,
Brow of heavenly snow,
Who died sin-broken and scorned of all,
Weary long years ago.

Madge, who died on his heavenly breast,
Penitent, sobbing the while;
Now, in God's heaven of holy love,
Shriven of her gentle guile.

Softly she pillows the old man's head
On her bosom of driven snow,
Whispering tales of the olden time,
Of the buried long ago.

Faint, from the tall cathedral spire,
Cometh a feeble shout;
Heavily now are the brazen bells
Ringing the old year out.

Gently his dream is fading away,
The little ones all have flown;
Yet not for a wearily passing year
Is he left upon earth alone.

The bells that are ringing the old year out,
Toll for the sexton dead,
Lying upon the marble cold,
Where he pillowed his weary head.

TWENTY STEPS TO ONE WOMAN'S HEART.

MY LOVE STORY WITHOUT ITS SEQUEL.

In the winter of 18— I took up my residence in New York City. At my first introduction into the society of good fellows and their attendant soirees and select round of familes, I unwittingly made two conquests, Chartsey—you are aware of the fact probably, but the particulars are these: At Major B.'s grand affair on Eigth street, I fell in in with a pretty little woman, set down on the club lists as a flirt, you know who I mean—Hatty Bell, the piquant and coquettish daughser of the rich salt merchant, characterized for his flinty disposition and better known among the young men who admired his daughter as old Bell-metal. I don't know what Hatty found to subdue her invincibility in my face or manners then, for I was anything but an adept in the arts of the society she frequented and liked, but she certainly did own a preference for me, and I was proud of it, none the less so that several of my companions had been making strenuous exertions to gain her favor.

However, I give you my word, my heart was untouched. Somehow or other a rumor had gained ground that I was a small Croesus, and it was probably owing to this that old Bell-metal eyed me with some degree of lenity. I flaunted Hatty in the face of a score of rivals for a couple of weeks, when it suddenly struck me that she was giving way too fast, and one night at Niblo's Garden I rather "sold myself," to use a vulgar phrase, by confidentially telling her what I thought, and frankly, as I supposed, declaring the fact that I hadn't the least affection for her. She laughed in my face till the tears stood in her eyes; told me my power was not equal to my imagination, and we concluded to be the warmest of friends forever after. But she went off in a few days to a distant relative's, and inexplicably enough it was whispered that I had jilted her. The effect of this was to make me rather vain, I will admit, and not long after, I became acquainted with Miss Madrigan, a companion of Mary's, and rather liking her merry disposition and sprightly tongue, found myself in her society very often. Miss Mardigan, you well recollect, was esteemed quite a belle among the folks at Harlem. She was the most beautiful creature on a horse I ever saw. I frequently accompanied Mary and herself to Disbrow's riding arena, and would spend the morning with them there. Things went on so for some time and Mary hinted to me how matters stood, and twitted me about the young lady in such a way as to leave no room to guess. I fancied I liked Miss M. well enough to marry her, and think it very likely things would have approximated that crisis, had it not been for one other simple thing. I saw Blanche. To be sure, I heard of her long before I saw her. The first intimation of her existence was in the shape of hyperbole, and what attracted my attention was, that every one agreed as to her superiority, a thing not often the case among men. I recollect being in the lobby of the Academy one night, and Northeral and a crowd of his friends were near the entrance. As I came up Jerry said:

"She certainly attracted as much attention to-night as did the prima donna."

To which another replied: "Quite up to your picture, Jerry, I own, to gaze would be to die! I never saw her quite so resplendant. If it had not been for the envy which heightened up the avenue belles in the boxes, they would have paled their ineffectual light."

I asked Jerry the subject of their remarks, and taking me one side he replied:—

"Lem, my boy, Blanche Therber condescended to shine on us to-night, and you must see her." We went to the parquette, and discovered that she had left the house.

Now it may seem a little strange to you, but I felt something more than a curiosity to see this beauty. I have mentioned the two cases of my first onslaught to show you what effect they had on me. There is no doubt, a very natural vanity excited me more than any other feeling, and as I found out that Blanche was the ruling queen of half the fashionable world—though the Northeral crowd never aspired to anything higher than a mere ebullition of admiration, being quite content with such crumbs as a passing recognition, or an occasional polka—I inflated myself with the belief that destiny had reserved this conquest for me, I, who had so readily done the matter for the Misses Bell and Mardigan. That was a natural and perhaps pardonable vanity in a young man and a neophyte. But I nurtured the thing until it expanded into a fixed determination, and I may say that, instead of being a case of love at first sight, it was love before sight, and it was astonishing how every item of casual information that reached me of Miss Therber, influenced this precocious talent of mine. At this time my uncle lived up here, and I put up at the Astor, being deep in the revised statutes of Beeklin & Flock, counsellors and attorneys at law. Mary was in the city nearly every week, and always when in town stopped at the Mardigan's house where I called on her. I said to her as unconcernedly as possible during one of my visits—

"Mary, do tell me what description of goddess Blanche Therber is? Rumor is ripe with her excellencies, and I am anxious, if I must join in the worship to have a clear conception of the beauty; so paint her jetty ringlets flowing, &c."

"Is it possible," she answered, "that you have not seen Blanche. Pray where did you earn she was a beauty in ringlets?" Then she fell to laughing, and laid her hand on my heart with a serio-comic air; "You must be careful, Lem, there's an epidemic in the subject."

"Then I shall be as bold as possible," I replied. "Fear is generally the premonitory symptoms of an attack in epidemics; let my example inspire you with a little courage—What description of creature is she, sweet or brilliant, queenly or intellectual?"

"I am not familiar enough with the shades of distinction to analyze the lady's charms," Mary said. "I call her a handsome woman in my inelegant language, and by that I mean she has all the attractions of form and feature usually considered necessary to form such a woman. How will that suit you?"

"It is very indefinite and unsatisfactory," I answered. "I see there is but one course left and that is to encounter her myself."

"If you do you are lost," added Mary, "it's a rule to which"—

"I am to be the exception," I interrupted.

About a week after this, I received, with great excitement, word of the fete to take place at Lazylake, at which, Mary said, Blanche would be present. And then it was, I first saw her. And then it was that I had the fool-hardiness to throw myself within the charmed circle. Something of disappointment followed the first glance. Mary called me to the windows, and whispered: "There she comes, up the walk, with her mother," and I saw a couple of women leaning on a gentleman, and approaching the house. One, the youngest, was very plainly dressed, in white, with a flat on her head. The other, her mother, I did not notice particularly; but as they drew near the house, and I had an opportunity of seeing Blanche's face, a load was removed, and I said to Mary:

"What an exaggerator Rumor is."

To which she only naively replied, "Do you think so?"

So you see, Chartsey, there wasn't any love at first sight, after all, though I will confess, notwithstanding I had failed to greet the peerless houri my imagination had depicted, yet that first glimpse never was forgotten, but, to use a figure you will understand, there was an unrecognized ray of beauty, that left upon the palate of my recollection certain ineffacable outlines,—white arms, full eyes, and a mass of dark hair, to take the place of visionary charms.

SOYER'S SULTANA'S SAUCE.

For Hot and Cold Dishes of all Kinds.

THIS MOST DELICIOUS and appetising Sauce, invented by the renowned "SOYER," for the London Reform Club, is, since his decease, manufactured by the well known house of CROSSE & BLACKWELL, London, from the original recipe. It is the favorite sauce in England and on the Continent, with a high and growing reputation among American Epicures, and is much approved of as a stimulant to the appetite and aid in digestion.

Opinions of the London Press.

"We recommend our correspondent to try MONS. SOYER'S new Sauce, entitled the 'Sultana's Sauce.' It is made after the Turkish recipe; its flavor is excellent, and it affords considerable aid in cases of SLOW AND WEAK DIGESTION."—The Lancet.

"Savory, Piquant and Spicy, worthy the genius of Soyer."—Observer.

"A most valuable adjunct to Fish, Flesh, and Fowl, and should have a place on every table."—Atlas.

DIAPERS, &C.—CONSUMERS OF RICHARDSON'S LINENS, and those desirous of obtaining the GENUINE GOODS, should see that the articles they purchase are sealed with the full name of the firm, J. N. RICHARDSON, SONS & OWDEN, as a guarantee of the soundness and durability of the Goods.

This caution is rendered essentially necessary, as large quantities of inferior and defective Linens are prepared, season after season and sealed with the name of RICHARDSON, by Irish Houses, who, regardless of the injury thus inflicted alike on the American consumer and the manufacturers of the genuine Goods, will not readily abandon a business so profitable while purchasers can be imposed on with Goods of a worthless character.

BININGER'S OLD LONDON DOCK GIN

A. M. BININGER & CO.,

(ESTABLISHED 1778.)

SOLE IMPORTERS,

No. 338 Broad Street, New York.

THIS DELICIOUS TONIC, ESPECIALLY for the use of the Medical Profession and the Family,

Possesses those INTRINSIC medicinal properties, (Tonic and Diuretic) which belong to an OLD AND PURE GIN.

The business of manufacturing spurious Gins, and offering them as beverages, under the titles, "Aromatic," "Cordial," "Medicated," &c., has become so common that the public are justly suspicious of nearly every thing that is offered under similar forms, and the trade has thus been brought into disrepute. It has remained for our house (established in 1778) to supply the pressing popular need, and to inaugurate a new era in the history of the Trade. We trust that our established reputation—founded upon eighty years of experience—abundantly vindicates our claim to public confidence.

N. B.

A comparison of "Bininger's Old London Dock Gin" with others bearing similar names, will establish its superiority, and make other Caution unnecessary.

Put up in Quart Bottles, in Cases of one and two dozen each, and sold throughout the world by Druggists, Grocers, &c.

GREAT WONDER

Of the Nineteenth Century,

PROFESSOR WOOD'S
HAIR RESTORATIVE.

SAYS THE ST. LOUIS, (MO.) DEMOCRAT: Below, we publish a letter to Dr. Wood, of this city, from a gentleman in Maine, which speaks glowingly of the superior merits of his hair tonic.—Such evidence must have its effect, when coming from a reliable source. If certificates are guarantees of truth, the Dr. needs no enconiums, nor useless puffery from the press:

BATH, MAINE, Jan. 20, 1856.

Professor O. J. Wood & Co:

GENTLEMEN: Having my attention called a few months since to the highly beneficial effects of your hair restorative, I was induced to make application of it upon my own hair, which had become quite gray, probably one-third white; my whiskers were of same character. Some three months since I procured a bottle of your hair restorative, and used it. I soon found it was proving what I had wished: I used it about twice a week. I have since procured another bottle, of which I have used some. I can now certify to the world that the gray or white hair has resumed its natural color, and I believe more soft and glossy than it has been before for twenty-five years. I am now sixty years old; my good wife at the age of fifty-two, has used it with the same effect.

The above notice I deem due to you for your valuable discovery. I am assured that whoever will rightly use, as per directions, will not have occasion to contradict my statements. I am a citizen of this city and a resident here for the last fifteen years, and am known to nearly every one here and adjoining towns. Any use you may make of the above with my name attached, is at your service, as I wish to preserve the beauties of nature in others as well as myself. I am, truly, yours, A. C. RAYMOND.

Baltimore, Jan. 23, 1858.

WOOD'S HAIR RESTORATIVE.

Professor Wood—Dear Sir: Having had the misfortune to lose the best portion of my hair, from the effects of the yellow fever in New Orleans in 1854, I was induced to make a trial of your preparation, and found it to answer as the very thing needed. My hair is now thick and glossy, and no words can express my obligations to you in giving to the afflicted such a treasure. FINLEY JOHNSON.

The undersigned, Rev. J. K. Bragg, is a minister in regular standing, and pastor of the Orthodox Church at Brookfield, Mass. He is a gentleman of great influence and universally loved. WM. DYER.

Brookfield, January 12, 1858.

Professor Wood—Dear Sir, Having made a trial of your Hair Restorative, it gives me pleasure to say that its effect has been excellent in removing inflammation, dandruff and a constant tendency to itching with which I have been troubled from my childhood; and has also restored my hair, which was becoming gray, to its original color. I have used no other article with anything like the same pleasure or profit.

Yours truly, J. K. BRAGG.

The Restorative is put up in bottles of 3 sizes, viz: large, medium and small; the small holds ½ a pint, and retails for one dollar per bottle; the medium holds at least twenty per cent. more in proportion than the small, retails for two dollars per bottle: the large holds a quart, 40 per cent. more in proportion and retails for $3 a bottle.

Wheat was in [illegible] speculative and milling demand and a decline of [illegible] took place, with limited transactions at 97c [illegible] No. 2 in store. There was quite a reaction in the corn market to-day, and under an urgent demand, prices advanced [illegible], with sales of about 15,000 bushels at 47 [illegible] for No. 1 in store; 45½ [illegible] for No. 1 store and 40@42c for Rejected in store—closing firm. The Great Secret at Last Discovered!!

JUNIUS JUDSON,

PATENTEE AND MANUFACTURER OF JUDSON'S PATENT

GOVERNOR VALVES,

FOR REGULATING THE

MOTION OF STEAM ENGINES,

WARRANTED THE MOST PERFECT Governor of Steam Power in the world, and like all really great inventions, the most simple. Manufactured by Judson & Snow, at Rochester, N. Y., Selye Buildings, near R. R. Depot.

Shop Rights for sale.

CAUTION TO INFRINGERS.

Patents issued in the United States, Nov. 5th, 1858. Reissued, Jan. 4th, 1859. Second Patent, March 4th, 1859. Patented also in Great Britain and the Canadas, June 5th 1851.

This improvement consists in making regulating valves to open with a rapidly increasing ratio of opening, by increasing the width of the opening made in the valve—or by accelerating the opening motion of the primary valves in use—or by combining increased width of opening, with accelerated valve motion. My patent Valves and Governors are so arranged as to give the resistance to the piston's motion, (or retard of the engine,) the power to open the valve just the exact amount of aperture necessary to counteract that resistance; and from the aperture, by the addition of equal amounts of resistance, notwithstanding that the action of the governor is continually decreasing in its effects.

I therefore reserve the action of valves combined with governors, as heretofore used. And as this effect can be produced by many different mechanical devices, (apparently not similar, but really identical with my improvement,) by which infringers have imposed upon the public, I therefore caution and request all persons interested, to examine carefully all alleged improvements in valves or governors, to see if the application of this truth or principle, first discovered and applied by me, is not involved in their arrangements—and thereby prevent a fraud upon the purchaser and inventor, both of which are at present much annoyed by their piratical depredations. H. H. BRIGHAM, Agent, Milwaukee.

THE GREATEST MEDICAL DISCOVERY OF THE AGE.

MR. KENNEDY, OF ROXBURY, HAS discovered in one of our common pasture weeds a remedy that cures

EVERY KIND OF HUMOR

FROM

THE WORST SCROFULA DOWN TO A COMMON PIMPLE.

He has tried it in over eleven hundred cases, and never failed except in two cases, both thunder humor. He has now in his possession over one hundred certificates of its value, all within twenty miles of Boston.

Two bottles are warranted to cure a nursing sore mouth.

One to three bottles will cure the worst kind of pimples on the face.

Two or three bottles will cure the system of biles.

Two bottles are warranted to cure the worst canker in the stomach.

Three or five bottles are warranted to cure the worst kind of Erysipelas.

One to two bottles are warranted to cure all humor in the eyes.

Two bottles are warranted to cure running of the ears and blotches among the hair.

Four to six bottles are warranted to cure corrupt and running ulcers.

One bottle will cure scaly eruptions of the skin.

Two or three bottles are warranted to cure the worst kind of ringworm.

Two or three bottles are warranted to cure the most desperate case of rheumatism.

Three or four bottles are warranted to cure salt rheum.

Five to eight bottles will cure the worst case of scrofula.

A benefit is always experienced from the first bottle, and a perfect cure is warranted when the above quantity is taken.

ROXBURY, Mass.

DEAR MADAM:—The reputation of the Medical Discovery, in curing all kinds of humors, is so well established, by the unanimous voice of all who have ever used it, that I need not say anything on the subject, as the most skillful physicians and the most careful druggists in the country are unanimous in its praise.

In presenting the Medical Discovery to your notice, I do it with a full knowledge of its curative powers, in relieving all, and curing most of the diseases to which you are unfortunately so liable. That most excruciating disease to an affectionate mother.

NURSING SORE MOUTH,

is cured as if by a miracle; your own temper is restored to its natural sweetness, and your babe from short and fretful naps to calm and sweet slumbers; and the Medical Discovery becomes a fountain of blessings to your husband and household.

In the more advanced stages of

CANKER

it extends to the stomach, causing

DYSPEPSIA

which is nothing but canker on the stomach; then on the intestines and creating a sinking, gone feeling, and an indifference even to the cares of your family.

Your stomach is

RAW AND INFLAMED,

your food distresses you, and you can only take certain kinds, and even of that your system does not get half the nourishment it contains, as the acrimonious fluid of the canker eats it up; then your complexion loses its bloom and becomes sallow or greenish, and your best day is gone. For want of nourishment your system becomes loose and flabby, and the fibres of your body become relaxed. Then follows a train of diseases which the Medical Discovery is peculiarly adapted to

CURE:

Palpitation of the heart, pain in the side, weakness of the spine and small of the back, pain of the hip-joint when you retire, irregularity of the bowels, and also that most excruciating of diseases the

PILES.

How many thousands of poor women are suffering from this disease and pining away a miserable life, and their next door neighbor does not know the cause. I wish to impress on your mind that good old proverb, "an ounce of prevention is better than a pound of cure." In the

MEDICAL DISCOVERY

you have both the preventative and the cure, with this great and good quality, that it will never, under any circumstances, do you an injury. Yours truly,

DONALD KENNEDY.

DR. CHURCHILL'S REMEDY.

WINCHESTER'S GENUINE PREPARATION OF THE

HYPOPHOSPHITES

OF LIME AND OF SODA,

(Made from the Formula of Dr. J. F. Churchill,)

FOR THE PREVENTION AND CURE OF CONSUMPTION!

THE SUCCESS OF THIS NEW REMEDY, (discovered by Dr. Churchill, of Paris,) is obtaining the most UNBOUNDED POPULARITY throughout Europe and the United States. It is a purely SCIENTIFIC PREPARATION, and acts with INVARIABLE EFFICACY in all stages of Pulmonary and Nervous Disease.

This Remedy has not only a curative effect, but will, if used wherever there exists a suspicion of the disease, PREVENT ITS DEVELOPMENT, and thus act as a preventive with regard to Consumption, just as vaccination does with regard to small-pox.

What the Medical Profession Say.

"In no instance have I found the Remedy to fail."—Dr. Churchill.

"I have used your preparation of the Hypophosphites with the most happy effect."—C. Fisher, M. D. Lynville, Ill.

"I have been astonished in witnessing the good effects of the Hypophosphites. The statements in your pamphlet are not at all exaggerated. My patients are just going to recover in the last stage of tubercular consumption."—S. Mozes, M. D., Hoosic Falls, N. Y.

"They exert an important remedial influence over the tubercular disease by improving the nervous strength and invigorating the nutritive functions."—Dr. W. E. Ball, Morristown, N. J.

"I have derived more satisfaction from the use of your Hypophosphites than from all other forms of medication combined."—Dr. Geo. W. Maris, Columbus, O.

"In the earliest appearance of the symptoms, the patient takes daily about ten grains of the Hypophosphites, he will speedily find himself in the enjoyment of such health as he, perhaps, had never known in his life before."

"Winchester's Hypophosphites are unexceptional in their preparation."—Am. Druggists' Circular.

"Mr. Winchester is worthy of all confidence, and devotes himself enthusiastically to these preparations in all their variety of combination."

Prepared strictly by Dr. Churchill's method."—D. Meredith Reese, M. D., New York.

"LOWELL, O., July 5, 1859.—I have had several cases given up by attending physicians who are now exempt from all the symptoms of pulmonary disease.—I have used the Remedy in my own case, with decided success. It was regarded as hopeless by physicians and friends, and even by myself, under the old treatment. I am now able to ride, in attending the sick, as many miles, perhaps, in a day, as any other physician in the country."—W. F. Clark, M. D.

"The Hypophosphites are most appropriate Remedies in large class of affections resulting from loss of nervous force."—Boston Medical and Surgical Journal.

Dr. Churchill's Work on Consumption,

IS NOW READY.

The Hypophosphites may be used with incurable success in Chronic Bronchitis, Asthma, Dyspepsia, and in all "Nervous" Disorders.

Make no Delay!

Consumptives, in any stage of the disease, should resort immediately to the use of the Hypophosphites of Lime and Soda. "Winchester's Genuine Preparation" (in simple syrup), in extra large bottles, is "chemically pure" (in the combination proposed by Dr. Churchill "for general use"; and is prepared according to his original Formula.

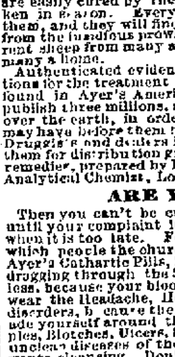
AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL.



THROUGH A TRIAL OF many years and through every nation of civilized men, AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL has been found to afford more relief and to cure more cases of pulmonary disease than any other remedy known to mankind. Cases of apparently settled consumption have been cured by it, and thousands of sufferers who were deemed beyond the reach of human aid have been restored to their friends and usefulness, to sound health and the enjoyments of life, by this all-powerful antidote to diseases of the lungs and throat.—The dry, hacking cough, the glassy eye, and the pale, thin features of him who was lately lusty and strong, whisper to all but him CONSUMPTION. He tries everything; but the disease is knawing at his vitals, and shows its fatal symptoms more and more over all his frame. He is taking the CHERRY PECTORAL now; it has stopped his cough and made his breathing easy; his sleep is sound at night; his appetite returns, and with it his strength. The dart which pierced his side is broken. Scarcely any neighborhood can be found which has not some living trophy like this to shadow forth the virtues which have won for the CHERRY PECTORAL an imperishable renown. But its usefulness does not end here. Nay, it accomplishes more by prevention than cure. The countless colds and coughs which it cures are the seed which would have ripened into a dreadful harvest of incurable diseases. Influenza, Croup, Bronchitis, Hoarseness, Pleurisy, Whooping Cough, and all irritations of the throat and lungs are easily cured by the CHERRY PECTORAL if taken in season. Every family should have it by them, and they will find it an invaluable protection from the insidious prowler which carries off the parent sheep from many a flock, the darling lamb from many a home.

Authenticated evidence of these facts, with directions for the treatment of each complaint, may be found in Ayer's American Almanac, of which we publish three millions, and scatter them broadcast over the earth, in order that the sick everywhere may have before them the information it contains.—Druggists and dealers in medicine generally have them for distribution gratis, and also for sale these remedies, prepared by Dr. J. C. AYER, Practical and Analytical Chemist, Lowell, Mass.

ARE YOU SICK?

Then you can't be cured too soon. Don't delay until your complaint is incurable, and then mourn when it is too late. Four-fifths of all the diseases which people the church yards, might be cured by Ayer's Cathartic Pills, if taken in season. Don't go dragging through the Spring, faint, sleepy and listless, because your blood is loaded with bile. Don't wear the Headache, Heartburn, and their kindred disorders, because your stomach is foul. Don't parade yourself around the world, covered with Pimples, Blotches, Ulcers, Sores, and all or any of the unclean diseases of the skin, because your system wants cleansing. Don't show yourself about, lean, haggard, all caved in, because your Stomach and Bowels need strengthening into healthy action. Ayer's Pills set these things right as sure as water quenches fire. They purify the body and blood, and restore their functions into healthy activity which you can feel as quickly as they are taken.—They are the one great medical wonder of the age, recognized by all who know their virtues, and many thousands know them. Take the Cherry Pectoral for a cough, and the Pills for all derangements requiring a purgative medicine.

Prepared by JAMES C. AYER, Practical and Analytical Chemist, Lowell, Mass., and sold by JOHN RICE, Milwaukee; C. H. REED & CO., Chicago, and all Dealers in Medicine everywhere.
